

I did it! Dr. Jeannie Pflum exceeded 300mph

Jacquie Meeks

Pam Manghelli

Gemma Dunn, OZ

Gemma Dunn, OZ: 234mph / 375kph

Tegan Hammon hit 300mph

Tanis Hammond, Tegan's mother, exceeded 300mph

In 1965 Betty Skelton hit 317mph in a jet car

Rhonnie Vesco hit 314 mph

Rhonnie Vesco

Eva Håkansson drove her home-built electric three-wheeled motorcycle “KillaJoule” to just over 216 mph

Eva and her husband are both mechanical engineers

Eva is accompanied by her mascot, “Bonny S. Flats”

Riding to her wedding

Eva built and registered Sweden's first ever road-legal electric motorcycle.

She is working on her PhD in engineering in Denver.

Eva built 80% of the machine by herself, over two years

Averaging 216mph / 360kph over a measured mile on Bonneville Salt Flats

Eva getting in ---.

Claustrophobic?

Eva recovers her braking parachute at the end of the run.

Her “motorcycle” is eighteen feet long and uses a 375-volt electric motor. She is now planning for 250mph and 300mph attempts, with larger motors.

Jessi Combs

The “car” is an F-85 Starfighter plane with no wings, and with special wheels added underneath

Jessi briefly reached 440mph / 758kph

Paula Elstrek, OZ

Erin Hunter

